National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) Stipend

NEH Summer Stipend Brief Summary:
NEH Summer Stipends support individuals pursuing advanced research that is of value to humanities scholars, general audiences, or both. Eligible projects usually result in articles, monographs, books, digital materials and publications, archaeological site reports, translations, or editions. Projects must not result solely in the collection of data; instead they must also incorporate analysis and interpretation. Summer Stipends support continuous full-time work on a humanities project for a period of two consecutive months. Summer Stipends support projects at any stage of development. Summer Stipends support individuals pursuing advanced research that is of value to humanities scholars, general audiences, or both.

To be considered for the nomination: Submit a paragraph (abstract) describing your proposal and your vita electronically no later than Friday, September 1, 2017 to Clark Saunders, Associate Provost & Dean of Graduate Studies to: clsaunders@hartford.edu (Within one week, two abstracts will be selected by a committee chair by the Associate Provost for submission of full proposals to NEH).

DEADLINE TO APPLY: September 27, 2017
AWARD AMOUNT: $6,000

Summer Stipends may not be used for:
- projects that seek to promote a particular political, religious, or ideological point of view; advocate a particular program of social action; specific policy studies; research for doctoral dissertations or theses by students enrolled in a degree program; the preparation or revision of textbooks; curriculum development; the development of teaching methods or theories; educational or technical impact assessments; empirical social science research, unless part of a larger humanities project; inventories of collections; works in the creative and performing arts (for example, painting, writing fiction or poetry, dance performance, etc.); the writing of autobiographies, memoirs, or works of creative nonfiction; or writing of guide books, how-to books, and self-help books.

The American Council of Learned Societies (ACLS) Fellowship

ACLS Summary:
The ACLS Fellowship program invites research applications in all disciplines of the humanities and related social sciences. The goal of the project should be a major piece of scholarly work by the applicant. ACLS does not fund creative work (e.g., novels or films), textbooks, straightforward translation, or pedagogical projects.

DEADLINE TO APPLY: September 27, 2017
Award Amount varies – see details below
The online application will become available in late July

ACLS Fellowships are intended as salary replacement to help scholars devote six to twelve continuous months to full-time research and writing. ACLS Fellowships are portable and are tenable at the fellow's home institution, abroad, or at another appropriate site for research. An ACLS Fellowship may be held concurrently with other fellowships and grants and any sabbatical pay, up to an amount equal to the candidate's current academic year salary. Tenure of the fellowship may begin no earlier than July 1, 2018 and no later than February 1, 2019.

Fellowship Details:
- Max Award:
  1. $70,000 for full Professor & equivalent
  2. $45,000 for Associate Professor & equivalent
  3. $35,000 for Assistant Professor & equivalent
- Tenure: 6-12 consecutive months devoted to full-time research to be initiated July 1, 2017-February 1, 2018.

Application Requirements
Applications must be submitted online and must include:
- Completed application form
- Proposal (no more than five pages, double spaced, in Times New Roman 11-point font)
- Up to two additional pages of images, musical scores, or other similar supporting non-text materials [optional]
- Bibliography (no more than two pages)
- Publications list (no more than two pages)
- Two reference letters

Completed applications must be submitted through the ACLS Online Fellowship & Grant website. Information to be posted mid-July on the ACLS website at http://www.acls.org/programs/collaborative/