“Advocating for Human Rights in Our Own Backyard”

Eleanor Roosevelt, key architect of the UDHR

Come celebrate the 70th anniversary of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights!

Program will include a community reading of the UDHR, followed by a discussion of local human rights led by local activist, trainer, and facilitator for social justice, Janée Woods.

When: Monday, December 10, 2018, 11:30 am to 1:30 pm.

Where: Maurice Greenberg Center for Judaic Studies, Harry Jack Gray Center, East 300, University of Hartford.

RSVP: limited seating – please reply to Susan Gottlieb sgottlieb@hartford.edu or 860-768-4964 by Thursday December 6.

Refreshments: a light lunch will be served.

Co-sponsored by the Maurice Greenberg Center for Judaic Studies, the University Interdisciplinary Studies Program and the President’s Committee on Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion